James J. Pender

Only the BEST!

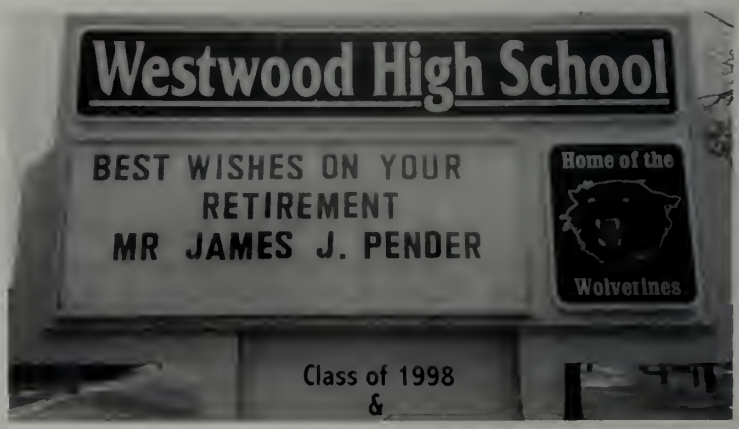

Success is something that is hard to come by. It is found in many forms, but perhaps the most potent type is self-fulfillment: the knowledge that you have worked as hard as you could, and that you have made your life and the lives of others better by your accomplishments. When asked to name a teacher that encompasses this quality, as well as qualities of integrity, hard work, perseverance and character, one teacher comes immediately to mind.

This teacher dedicated his life to making Westwood High School a better place. He filled the halls with his smiling face, from the crack of dawn, well into the night, for 43 long years. He started out as a math and English teacher during the school's first year in this building, 1957. He saw the building through two additions. During his years of service, he worked as a teacher, math department head, a coach of basketball, advisor of the math team, manager of athletics, Driver's Ed teacher, Northeastern University Advisor, and Assistant Principle.

After 43 long years of work and dedication, he retired this year. Yet despite his many accomplishments, his absence from Westwood High School is mostly felt by the thousands of students and teachers he has taught and affected. He touched the lives of many people, as a teacher, as a coach, and as a friend. He is perhaps one of the most well known members of the WHS faculty. Anyone who's gone to Westwood High has probably wondered whether or not this teacher - went home at night. We began to suspect that he actually lived at school!

Every morning, his cheery voice greeted the school over the loud speaker, and his reading of announcements is a fond memory for many students. This teacher rarely missed a school performance, sporting event or ceremony. His dedication to Westwood High is unquestionable, and although he retired this January, it is our honor to present Mr. James J. Pender with the Green Years 2000 Yearbook.

Principal's Message

As your tenure as a student at Westwood High School comes to an end, I must express my sincere thanks and gratitude for all of you have contributed to our school. When you arrived as apprehensive freshmen, it was evident that we truly welcomed a unique and talented group of students. You were committed to high levels of achievement not only in the classroom but also in athletics, music, performing arts, and school government. However, most importantly you set high standards, supported each other, and shared your talents with your community.

Best wishes for the utmost success and happiness as you enter a new and exciting phase of your lives. Wherever your mission in life takes you, don't forget your roots at Westwood High School and those that have supported and helped you through your school years. My thanks for permitting me to share these four years with all of you. Please keep in touch and become active alumni.

Guidance

Since that first meeting in the auditorium freshman year, the guidance department has proven again and again how truly important it is to each and every student at Westwood High. From freshman year onward students have sought the support of their guidance counselors in personal, academic, and extracurricular areas. When we were each presented with that brightly-colored, two-pocket folder in the middle of junior year and the great college process began, the true value of the guidance department became once again apparent. From that initial list of colleges, to recommendations, and even stamps, we each survived the college process due to the ceaseless support of our guidance counselors. The class of 2000 is forever indebted to our wonderful guidance department including Ms Carol Armstrong, Ms. Mary Levangie, new addition Mr. Thomas O'Connor, and Guidance secretary Mrs. Kathleen Hayes.

Front Office

The class of 2000 would like to thank the front office staff for all its help! Whether we needed a dismissal pass, forgot our lunch, or arrived late to school, a trip to the front office was always a pleasant one. Mrs. Judy Dick made certain we got our messages and handled the frenzy of activities with ease. Mrs. Dormha Gonzer, new this year, adjusted quite well to the hectic pace of the day. And finally, we will never forget Ms. Mary Buchanan, our former front office secretary, who left us this year. We will miss her and will always remember her fondly. The class of 2000 thanks these dedicated people who have kept the school running smoothly.

Science

The Science Department, under the leadership of Dr. John Griffin, continues to offer some of the most fascinating courses at Westwood High School. With a wide variety of Advanced Placement courses and challenging electives most students have taken 5 to 6 science courses during their high school careers. Since most science courses meet eleven times per cycle students develop close relationships with their hard-working science teachers. We will not soon forget Mr. Burke's trips to Lyman's Pond, Mr. Grover's patience and humor, Ms. Plunkett's "never a dull moment" classes, or Mrs. Staiti's riveting lectures. We thank these, and all our science teachers, for their continuing commitment to developing inquisitive and thoughtful young scientists and thinkers.

Boasting some of the most difficult courses at Westwood High School, the English department teaches students to read and analyze, develop a clear, concise writing style, and apply the rules of the English language to every area of study. The grammar and Great Expectations of the ninth grade have provided a strong base for the even more challenging curricula of grades ten, eleven, and twelve, including everything from Dorian Gray to Form-Content-Purpose essays, and Macbeth. Because of the careful and thorough instruction of our English teachers, we have become lifelong readers and thinkers. The Class of 2000 is truly grateful for all their hard work and undying support throughout our high school years.

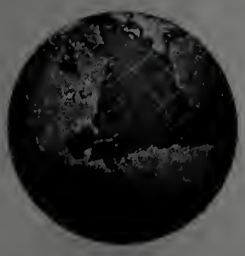

Social Studies

Since freshman year the class of 2000 has taken many incredible journeys with the social studies department. From the ancient civilizations of freshman year to the wide expanse of European history, to the United States Constitution and beyond, as we have progressed through sophomore, junior, and senior years a wide variety of social studies courses have been offered. The teachers of the social studies department have taught us to question and analyze the world; they have challenged us and expected no less that our best work. Mr. Brown, with his well-loved study guides leads the department as chairperson. Mr. Dillon and his "soap-box", Mr. Dore's energetic lectures, Mrs. Walsh-Saumsiegle's personal analogies and Ms. Park's fast-paced psychology classes all will be fondly remembered by the class of 2000. We thank you.

YES!! YES!! SOH CAH TOA!! The Math department and its teachers will be fondly remembered by the class of 2000. What makes the math department so unique is each teacher's personal twist. It is hard to forget Doc Baker's "tick, tick, tock, tock," Mr. Hargreaves' index of math jokes, and Mr. Kodzis' endless enthusiasm and friendliness. The math department has also welcomed several new additions, including Mrs. Christine Relleva, Mr. Brian Baylor, Mr. Michael Mao, and Ms. Tracy Sonneman. This year the math department also bid a fond farewell to its long-time chair, James Pender. After 43 years in Westwood, Mr. Pender will be missed by all of us. It has been a busy year, full of changes in the math department, and the class of 2000 thanks the hardworking and dedicated teachers who have made this department outstanding.

World Languages

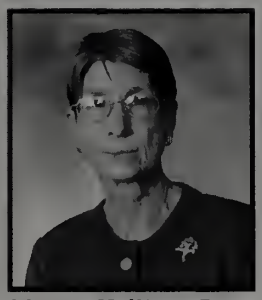

Chaired by Ms. Hollis Perry, the Westwood High School World Languages department offers courses in French, Spanish, and Latin. These courses provide students with opportunities to not only learn how to speak, read, and write a foreign language, but also to better understand the cultures of the peoples who speak these languages. World Language teachers strive to impart their love of language and culture to their students in hopes that students will one day feel comfortable applying their language skills in real world situations.

Media Center

Westwood High School's media center has undergone many exciting changes over the past year. Beginning with a computerized book check out system, and many on-line research sources the media center is rapidly moving into the twenty-first century. The best new addition to the media center has been the new laptop lab. Many teachers have utilized this laptop lab to offer multimedia learning experiences to their classes. Ms. Lisa Hargis came on board this year as our technical expert, and her knowledge and experience have enabled us to benefit fully from our new resources. Offering everything from Internet access to just a quiet place to study, the media center has been a valuable resource for every student.

Visual and Performing Arts

The Visual and Performing Arts Department of Westwood High School allows students to enjoy a variety of classes ranging from acting to ceramics. Mr. Giurleo and Ms. Wills lead an enthusiastic music and theater program. Every year the Performing Arts Department puts on two major shows, and the students from band, chorus, jazz band, and jazz choir perform in two impressive concerts. In addition Ms. Kaiser and Mrs. DesPres run a successful as well as challenging art program. Their atr and ceramics students create projects and display them all year long. Thanks to the dedication of our performing and visual arts teachers, the students of Westwood High School have learned valuable lessons and had experiences that they will remember with pride for the rest of their lives.

Business and Technology

For some students Westwood High School's Business and Technology Department is one of the most important specialized areas of education in the school. This department provides students with skills that can be used in the business and industrial worlds. Computer Applications, Accounting, Principles of Law and the Justice System are among some of the courses offered in the business department. The Industrial Arts Department, directed by Charles Kacamburas, offers classes in wood-working, architectural design and graphic arts. These courses have provided numerous valuable life skills for many students at Westwood High.

Mr. Charles Kacamburas

Mrs. Mary Furber

Wellness and Athletics

Wellness and Athletics represent an important part in the total education program of Westwood High School. The wellness and athletic activities in which students participate are determined by the season, student choice, and the health portion of the curriculum. Both wellness and athletics play a role in the social, mental, physical, and emotional development of the students, as well as providing important leadership and sportsmanship opportunities.

Headed by Dr. Robert Fanning the Special Services Department has always provided support for students. Teachers in the Learning Center give individual attention to each student, contributing to many students' academic success. Also included under Special Services are school nurse, Karen Poreda, and school psychologist, Kristen Corcoran. Both have worked to provide a healthy environment for all students. The wonderful staff from the Special Services Department has helped to provide a comfortable and encompassing high school experience for every student at Westwood High.

I feel as if I am trying to swallow a molten ball of red hot Iron that I can't gulp down and can't spit out. I reach a point when complexities, contradictions, paradoxes, and impossibilities pile up so high I become overwhelmed. I have traveled different paths and met frustration around many corners. I feel STUCK. The only way out is to stand up brake free from my restricted, untangle the mass of paradoxes. Then I see something new is born. I am walking down the and the simple solutions comes...

Winter Concert

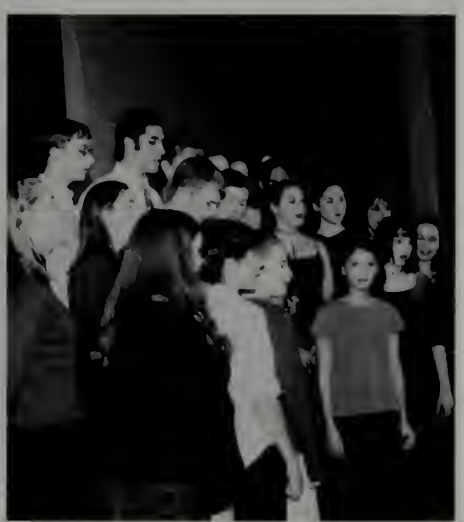

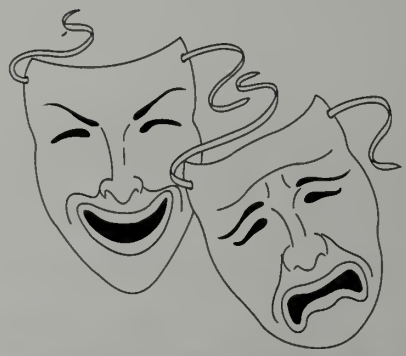

Our Town

From the first day of school to fall sports and the first dance, the fall season is a time of much excitement around Westwood High School, and one of the season's most anticipated events is the fall play. This year, under the direction of first-year theater teacher Misti Wills, fifty students from all grades came together to produce an outstanding performance of Thornton Wilder's Our Town. All the performers, from the ensemble members and the "dead", to the leading actors and stage managers were able to work together to sensitively and poignantly capture Wilder's timeless message that only in death can we truly value life.

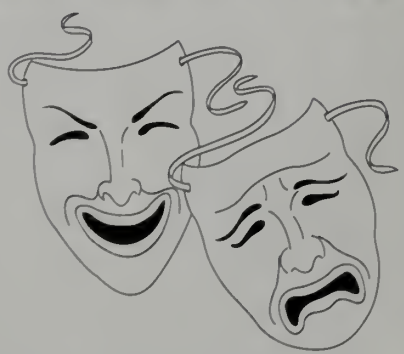

Damn Yankees

On April sixth, seventh, and eighth at 8 p.m. the musical production, Damn Yankees was presented by over eighty talented Westwood High School students under the theatrical direction of Misti Wills and the musical direction of James Giurleo.

The musical comedy Damn Yankees tells the story of Joe Boyd, a loyal Washington Senators fan who will go to any lengths to see his beloved team win th pennant, any lengths including making a deal with the Devil himself. The Devil, "Mr. Applegate," turns the middle-aged Joe Boyd into Joe Hardy, the golden b from Hannibal Missouri who leads the Senators to victory. What young Joe soon realizes, however, is that victory is a poor substitute for the life he left behin and the audience is carried through his lively confrontation with the Devil and Satan's seductive sidekick, Lola.

With sparkling performances from Joey Cullinane as Joe Boyd, Jonathan Dick as Joe Hardy, Velvet Richardson as Meg Boyd, Andrew Lucas as the Devil and Abigail Fine as Lola as well as many other talented students on stage, behind the scenes, and in the pit orchestra, Westwood High School's Damn Yanke proved a hilarious and memorable production for both the audience and the performers alike.

Spanish and French Honor Society

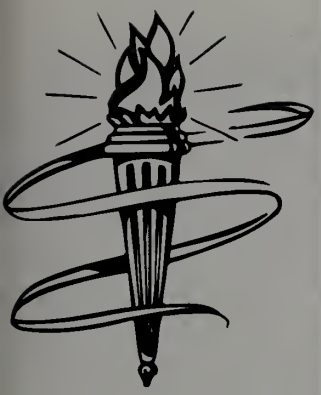

The Department of World Languages sponsors Chapters for the French Honor and Spanish National Honor Societies. These societies foster the study of languages and recognizes high academic achievement. Special recognition is given to students from both French and Spanish classes.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is national organization that awards membership on recognition of a student's scholarship, leadership, service, and character. After an assesment of a student's academic record in the junior year, qualified students are invited to apply for membership in the Westwood High School Chapter.

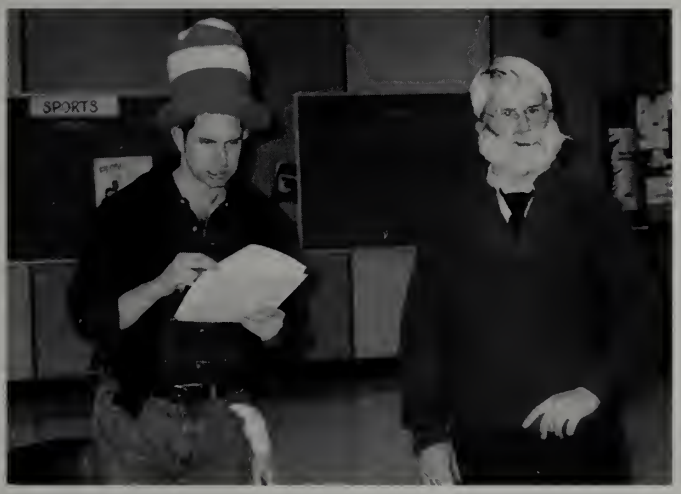

As demonstration of their individual commitment of the school and larger community, members of NHS particiapte in a variety of projects. This year students helped organize the opening day of school, served as guides at the fall open house and parent conferences, volunteered on vacations tow ork with autistic children as SNARC, and escorted TEC students each morning in homerooms. NHS members became pen pals with kindergarten students in Westwood elementary schools and organized and ran a Red Cross blood drive at WHS that resulted in the donation of 70 pints of blood. In April, WHS inducted 35 new members in to NHS membership with a ceremony and reception held in the library media center. This years' graduates know they are leaving NHS in good hands. Thanks to Mrs. Walsh and Ms. Parks.

Student Council

Legislative Council

The Legislative Council is the law-making branch designed by the Westwood High School Constitution. The Legislative Council organizes community meetings and hears proposals for changes or additions to the WHS Student Handbook. This year's council heard proposals on the use of electronic devices in school, the creation of a senior lounge, several changes in the attendance policy and the changes to the smoking policy. Subcommittees to study a new no-smoking policy, a handbook review and a constitution review were also created. A working relationship with the WHS Site Council regarding handbook policies was forged. Members of the Council worked closely with the Student Advisory Board to survey students about attitudes and opinions regarding school issues.

Judicial Council

The Judicial Council serves as the school court where any member of the High School community may bring a case. The council also interprets the school constitution. The Council is composed of representatives from the student and faculty body. This year has proven to be exceptional, with the creation of a more clear process of bringing a hearing to the council. The new process will be added into the constitution as a new amendment at the very start of next year.

EXECUTIVE BRANCH

The Executive Branch of Westwood High School this year was led by the Principal, who exercises the power to assume the responsibilities, including disciplinary actions, normally associated with his job description. The Principal is considered to be the Chief Executive and implements the policies and rules of the School Committee, the Central Administration, the Legislative Council, and the decisions of the Judicial Council. The Chief Executive also has the power to amend any decision that he deems unreasonable or inconsistent with the Constitution's policies.

Student Advisory Board

Under the leadership of teacher/advisor Mrs. Hayes, President Edward Naim, Vice President Brian Greenberg, Treasurer Aubrey Gustalli, Secretary Krystal Law, and Public Relations Coordinator Brett Boscho, the Student Board had an exceptionally successful year. The Board, consisting of six elected representatives from each salsas, acts as a liaison between students, faculty, and administration. Beginning with the fall Community Meeting, the Board, in collaboration with the Legislative Council, organized an effective tolerance and diversity week with former Massachusetts Attorney General Scott Harshbarger as a guest speaker. Other speakers during the year included Senator Marion Walsh.

Social Awareness Week, on of SAB's most important functions, brought in dynamic speakers on such issues as substance abuse, diversity, and eating disorders. Student response to this year's week was unparalleled in enthusiasm and positive feedback.

Serving as the student liaison to the Westwood School committee was Edward Naim. The SAB Regional Representatives were Krystal Law and Edward Naim.

Due to the hard work of teacher/advisor Mrs. Hayes, Safety Officer Paul Toland, and each member of the Board, the school benefited from the many effective events which encouraged students to explore the important social issues that face them as a community members.

Arbitration Council

Part of WHS governance structure, the Arbitration Council is comprised of students and faculty members who help members of the high school community resolve their disputes peacefully. Arbitration Council members ask parties to a dispute to "talk things out" and "brainstorm solutions" in order to create binding agreements. Thankfully, no party to an Arbitration contract has ever broken his/her word during the eight-year life of the council.

Negotiations

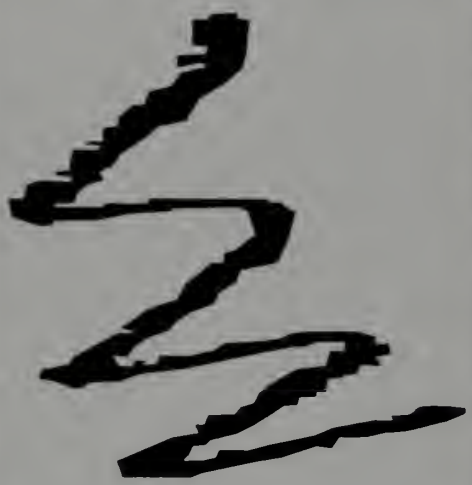

The Negotiations Team was formed this year to compete in a pilot program with Wayland High School. A specific negotiations "game" was played and several negotiating strategies were tested out. The goal of the program is to teach students how to engage in a win-wing negotiations, where a best fair deal is reached for both parties. Westwood was the "winner" in the actual competition between Westwood and Wayland, and it is hoped that the program will become a permanent fixture at Westwood High School.

ELNA

The ELNA Collaborative (Educations and Leadership for a Non-Violent Age) works to provide leadership training opportunities for high school students and educate students about diversity, tolerance, conflict resolution, and politically and socially sensitive issues. Students involved in ELNA at Westwood have attended two conferences and district organization meets. Upperclassmen also contributed their expertise at a middle school conference as facilitators and all members have attended month school ELNA meets. ELNA conference topics ranged from suicide prevention, teen dating violence, substance abuse, the impact of the media, human rights and intervention. The Students continue to demonstrate enthusiasm for this extra0curricular activity. Many students have conveyed an interest to increase the participation in ELNA by designing programs that benefit Westwood High School and Community.

Interact

Improv

Though off to a rough start, the improv club managed to pull it together by mid-February for a stunning performance at the Talent Show. Wowing the judges with their dazzling "wits," they received a total score of -7. So, they continue to work hard and perfect their improving skills. Good luck next year!

Peer Counselors

The purpose of Peer Counselors is to teach students how to develop basic counseling skills and attitudes. The goal is to develop positive attitudes toward helping others and serving as positive role models for younger students. They also provide valuable support when a student must deal with considerable outside pressure. To become a Peer Counselor, students devote much of their time to training sessions and then time during their school day when they their peer counseling meetings. This year, they involved themselves in ninth grade discussion groups, with different topics ranging from acceptance to preparing for mid-year exams. They also attended a conference at Framingham State College, went to Hale Reservation with the eight graders, and helped tour the eight grade during Orientation. Students also serve as tutors, able to work one-to-one with personal issues. Thanks very much to Mrs. Armstrong for her dedication to all the Peer Counselors.

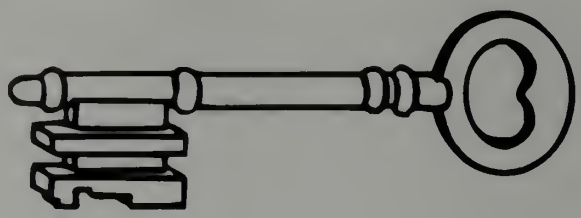

Mentors

The Mentor Program is an opportunity for high school students who live in Westwood to teach and act as role models for children in their community. Mentors can volunteer in a variety of different ways, and can volunteer as little or as much as they have time for. The program is run by Kristin Batista, who is the Youth Services Counselor at the Youth Commission. This year, juniors and seniors volunteered one Friday every month at the Teen Center at Thurston Middle School. The Mentors were responsible for supervising the gym and dance areas, selling candy and soda, as well as acting as responsible models for the seventh and eight graders at Thurston. Mentors also volunteered for the Friends Network, which is a Big Brother/Big Sister type program that matches high school volunteers with elementary school children. Mentor met with their little friends for an hour once a week from January to May. Through the Body Safety Theater Program, Mentors taught hird graders how to keep their bodies safe. Members rehearsed skits from February to May in order to prepare for their final performance. Mentors also did a Disability Awareness Program assisting in teaching second graders awareness of blindness, deafness, physical challenges, nd mental retardation. Many students volunteered at the Drop in Program at Thurston. Every Thursday after school until 4:00 PM, Mentors pent time with middle school students who attended the Youth Commission's after school program. There they played games, talked, and elped with homework. A special thanks goes to Kristin Batista for her help with this program.

Governance and Elections

Key Club

The Key Club is a community service organizaiton. Members volunteer on a individual basis at local places such as the Ellis Nursing Home. This year Key Club made trips to the Ellis Nursing home once a month, the first time in a number of years. Carnations were successfully sold during Valentines Day, and the money was donated. For the first time, also in a number of years, Key Club collected food at Thanksgiving. A Christmas Stocking Stuffer was done, where they Key Club stuffed stockings with small presents for the homeless. This year was also successful in the Pennies for Pine Street, were students and faculty donated lots of money. Thanks goes to Mrs. Ann Matteson for her time and encouragement.

Walking Octopus

The Walking Octopus is a student newspaper under the direction of Mr. James Strancel. Our duty, we believe, has been to inform the school community of relevant news. Because we are published through a local newspaper, we have also been able to spread news about the school the general community. This year, we overcame numerous problems, but still ended to have a great year. The staff is headed by Karen Martell, as chief editor, and Catherine Frieman, as assistant editor.

No Parentheses

The purpose of No Parentheses is to provide an opportunity for students to publish their prose, poetry, and artwork. This year, the magazine held a poetry and cover contest with money prizes. After reading, we selected the best of the lot and published it. Special thanks goes to Mrs. Baraza.

Academic Decathlon

Each year, high schools throughout the nation compete in a series of meets known collectively as Academic Decathlon. The meets, which begin around eight in the morning, on Saturday, involved a series of tests in subjects of mathematics, science, social sciences, economics, literature, art, and music. For a relatively new team, Westwood this year made it to the State Finals, and receiving numerous awards. Congratulations to all the members for an outstanding performance this year, and a special thanks to Mr. Dore for all his hard work.

Breakdancing

It all started ten years ago, when a breaker known as the Sloth, known for the most incredible moves in slow-motion, came upon the dance floors of the NYC club scene. He now has gone underground in small suburban school to teach his sacred art, and so it began...Klash: the man of spins, Sasser: the man of style, Keepa': the man of lank, Javellan: the man of jactitude, Juju: they still have no built a circle large enough to contain this man, Shaft: the worm, Purpna: David J Purpura, Clocker: the man of heart, Shogun: the Nigerian Nightmare, Naked Scott: the man of vortex, and Krystal Law: she's got skillz.

The BreakerZ would come to dominate every performance that they graced. Their style and flavor could not be matched by any, not even Pizzazz. And as they claimed victory in their dance battles, they rest assured that their legacy would not be forgotten.

Chess

The Westwood Chess Team has record season this year. For the first time in over a decade, we reached the playoffs witht he fourth-best record in the league. In the semifinal of the South Shore Interscholastic Chess League team tournament, we lost a hard-fought match the eventual undefeated champions Roxbury Latin, a team whose top players were trained by a grandmaster coach. (Izzat Jarudi and David Purpura still challenged them in close matches).

Despite that tough loss, our chess team played extremely well as the SSlCL individual tournament where Westwood's rank number one Izzat Jarudi and rant number three Jonathan Murphy, defeated league's top players and confirmed their ranks on our team by finishing first and third in the entire league. Congratulations to all our team players, four of whom graduate this year, and to the veteran an new chess club members who will continue Westwood's tradition of excellence in chess.

Pizzazz

"Pizzazz!" is a group of some of the most talented and energetic singers and dancers in Westwood High School. Only in its fourth year, the infant jazz chorus has already achieved great accomplishments, the highlight of which being the Medal of Excellence won at the North American Music Festival in New York. This year the group dazzled audiences throughout the Bay Stated with their show stopping renditions of "Season of Love" from "Rent," "All that Jazz" from "Chicago," "Caberet," and many other hits. The groups stunning vocals and amazing dance skills are made possible by music director Diane Leggere and the incredibly talented choreographer, Susie Michelson. The member of Pizzazz are also involved in a variety of other activities. Every member of Pizzazz is incredibly proud of how far the group has come since it's recent creation. With six seniors graduating from the group this year, many upcoming students will have the ability to participate in the group next year. There's only one requirement-you have to have pizzazz!

Drama Club

Continuing on the tradition, the Drama club put on a number of different activities. Starting off with the annual fall play, which was a big hit. While it landed on the same night as the Spanish Honor Society induction ceremony, the play attracted a great audience and performance. The next task was the Kids on the Block. This program is directed by the club to educate children about disability awareness. A special thanks goes out to Mrs. Kelsch for all her hard work this year.

Peer Educators/SAAD

Peer Educators/SAAD have the joint purpose of educating fellow students about the need to make responsible decisions in all areas of their life. The group attended several conferences this year to learn about activities and strategies that would work in furthering the cause of convincing fellow students to do the right thing, particularly regarding substance abuse. Peed Educators worked closely with Officer Paul Toland, who was invaluable in assisting the group with relevant issues to present to fifth graders an annual visit to pre-prom activities were also sponsored

Math Team

The Math Team competes five times a year for the Southeastern Massachusetts Mathematics League. Practices are held monthly, but preparation is necessary. THe members compete in three rounds each and ten minutes to answer three problems in each round. Every round deals with a different aspect of mathematics including algebra, trigonometry, and geometry. A special thanks and welcome back goes out to Mrs. Relleva, who coached us this year after take a leave of absence.

Amnesty International

Amnesty is an organization that advocates the rights of those held captive by oppressive governments around the world. Moderated by Kristin Small and advised by Mrs. Stati, the group organized letter writing marathons and enhanced student awareness.

Mock Trials

The Mock Trial program is sponsored by the Massachusetts Bar Association and involves more than 150 high schools around the state. Teams are given cases to try in courtrooms often with judges or clerk magistrates presiding. Students must represent both plaintiff and defendants, preparing evidence, question witnesses, and make opening and closing remarks, just as they would in real trial situations. Students play on the parts, prepare their questions, and their witness performances. This exercise it excellent for preparation for public speaking as well as quick thinking. They year's team one of it's three trials in convincing fashion. The team would like to thank Mr. Mark Superco, Attorney Chris Poreda, and Mrs. JoAnn Stati, for their help an invaluable assistance.

School Store

This year Jon Dick and Andy Lucas decided it would be a great idea to start a student run store! This store would benefit the senior class fund, and it sure did. IT raked in almost fifty-thousand dollars and eight cents, despite heated competition from the cafeteria store. Luckily in a West Side Story style standoff, the lunch ladies were defeated. Therefore the basion of goodness, the school store was saved. The ladies flocked to Jon and Andy (not to Eoghan) and they were made Principal for a day. In the mean time, the store received a new paint job, a statue of a naked man and a Backstreet Boys poster. Good luck next year. Special thanks to the lovely Steph Praino, Cass Gutner, and Colleen Glennon for the hard work and supreme paint job.

Ecolibrium

Ecolibrium was organized by students ten years ago to promote the interest of a clean environment. Goals of the club are to increase awareness as Westwood high School of issues of pollution, loss of biodiversity, habitat destruction, and solutions for this global problems. Ecolibrium operated on a small scale this year, involved primarily in school-wide paper recycling.

Spectrum

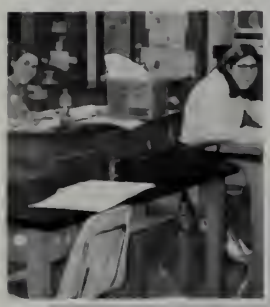

Spectrum is made up of a group of students whose goal is to widen the Westwood school community's exposure to issues concerning people of alternative lifestyles and to promote tolerance through education. All students are welcome to participate. Thanks go out to Kristin Corcoran and James Strancel.

Unity

Unity is a group of students who sociall and civially recognizse everyone as equals. Unity held meetings during lunch where issues that we faced in our school, communities, and world, were discussed. At the beginning of the year we attended the annual Team Harmony Rally that is a central focus of discussions were racism, tolerance, and celebration of diversity. Being that everyone is equal in our group, we feel the need not to elect officers. Everyone has an opinion, not just one person.

PUTTING THE PIECES

TOGETHER

The summer of 2000 is almost over and Green Years 2000 is almost finished. When I took on the task of yearbook advisor I knew it would be a lot of work, but I never understood, until now, exactly how much work goes into putting together a yearbook. This is a very important memento of your high school years that you will treasure for many years to come, myself and the Green Years staff wanted to make this the best we possibly could for you, the class of 2000.

I would like to thank my editors, Alexis, Lavinia, Kate, and Susie. These four girls put in endless hours of work during the school year and into the summer. I could never have done it without you! I will always remember you and my first year as advisor to the yearbook. I would like to thank the many other students; both seniors and juniors who helped out as well. Thanks also to Mr. Flahive, a former Green Years advisor, who answered endless questions, allowed me to attend training sessions, and who's wisdom saw me through many a dilemma including the crash of the yearbook computer in June when we lost everything we had done so far. Despite difficulties we have finally almost finished this book. We hope you enjoy it. I would like to extend a special thanks to Chris Kim for his help all summer long with the sports section, and to Maia Sharuk, who also worked with me all summer long to get this 2000 edition done.

I also want to say that I really have enjoyed being Green Years advisor and I look forward to many more years of being the yearbook advisor for Westwood High School. Enjoy your yearbook, we had a blast putting it together for you.

Berno- Santa Clause commercial- life time supply of Coke, sloppy eater, Andy Burke- enjoying freshman initiation, getting pulled over, J.C. doing karaoke, bus ride to and from Eastward Ho! FFD's at Grampy's, Cozy's stupid sayings, THE LLAMA. Thanks for everything, Mr. Kodzis.

Most Memorable Match:

Our most memorable match was against Bellingham when we needed to win in order to go to the state tournament. Thanks to Phil Holden and Brian Osganian, who took all three points in the last group to carry the team one last time, we beat Bellingham, 7-5.

Don't Call it a Comeback, We've Been Here for Years

Captains: Jeff Piersons, Nic Goebeler, Joey Fierimonte

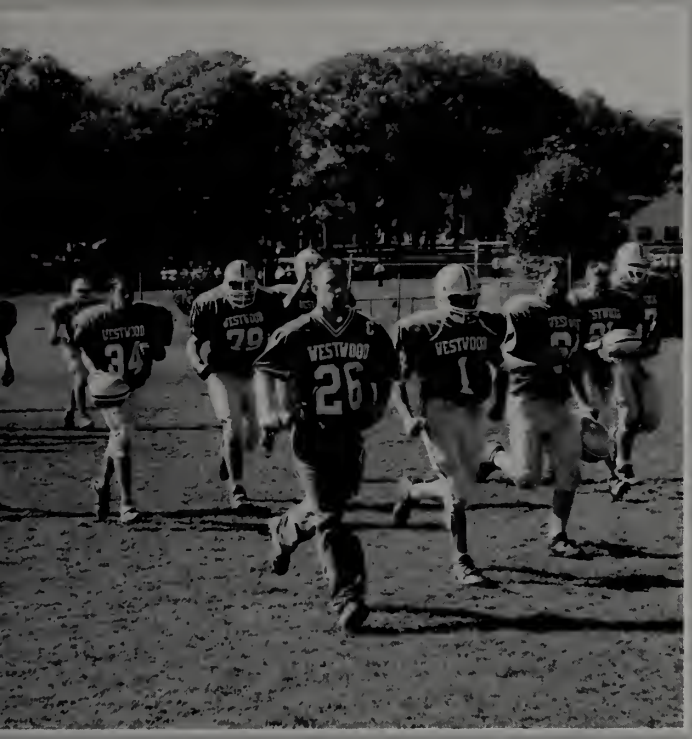

FOOTBALL

We had a slow start, losing our first two games to Duxbury and Hopkinton. On the first play of the second game, we lost our captain, Nic Goebeler, to a broken wrist. Mark Narciso and Buck Pendergast did a great job filling in for the loss. We came back with a win against D-S our third week, but fell back again with a tough loss to Ashland in the final minutes. An emotional win against Millis, the eventual Super Bowl champs, set us on a four game winning streak, in which we beat Medway, and destroyed Medfield and Wayland beyond all recognition. Despite Medfield coming into their homecoming game against us thinking they were going to break a 30-year losing streak, we scored 25 points in the first half and decided to take it easy on them in the second half. Unfortunately, our Super Bowl hopes were destroyed in a heartbreaking loss to a bunch of hicks. We ended the season on a good note by beating Holliston on Thanksgiving in a rematch of the freshman mudbowl.

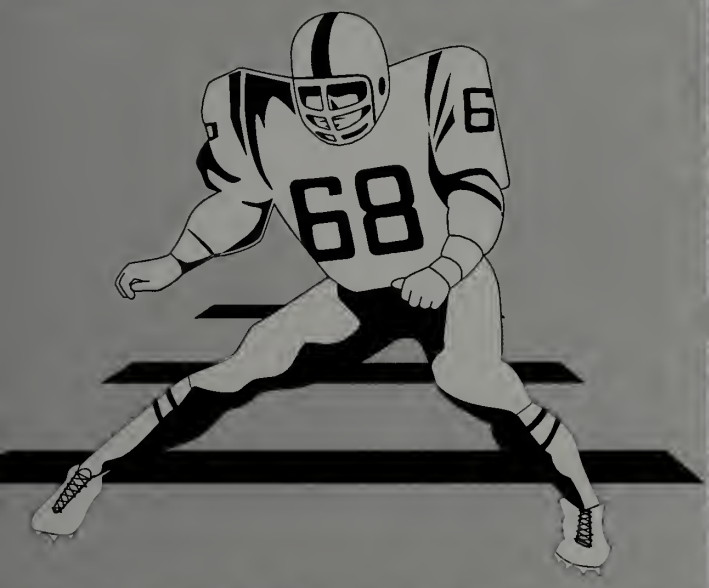

Scoreboard:

Duxbury	14-0	L
Hopkinton	32-0	L

We may not have had a lot of wins, but we played hard and definitely had a lot of fun this year. Although we graduated ten seniors last year, we were still a team with winning on our minds and in our hearts. The beginning of the season was one of many new experiences. We were playing with many new players, but a close bond formed between all of us very rapidly. We got to know one another and strategized position formations. We had a lot of tough games and a lot of tough practices, but through them all we remained a close team who supported one another. We would have liked to win more games, but we know we played with a lot of heart. The end of our season was our strongest and we finally played how we knew we could. Our last game against Bellingham was full of intensity and the tie meant a lot to the whole team.

BOYS SOCCER

Senior Standouts:

Brian Greenberg, "THE WALL," was an intimidating presence between the pipes in his only season of high school soccer. The tall, lanky redhead was a fan favorite, and the local papers never failed to mention the three tremendous saves he made each game.

Kieran O'Leary hit the field in the early season as a relative unknown. By the end he was a feared defender recognized by all the TVL. His combination of crushing blows and iron bones made him one of the most respected players on the pitch.

Fondly known as "Bubba," Mike Berube was a force on the field. Along with Kierbo, Bubba was one of the most physically dominating defenders of the league. However, his play would have improved dramatically if he could have just stopped staring at the ten-year-olds on the sidelines.

ARE YOU THERIOUTH?

Most Memorable Game: Going into Holliston with a dismal 0-11-1 record in the last twelve meetings, we were hoping to leave the pitch with at least our dignity. Flashbacks of 6-1 embarrassments rushed through our heads. Our only motivators were the tie we had managed last year and the three game unbeaten streak we were currently riding. After thirty-five minutes of deadlocked play, a sudden burst of hidden skill by freshman David Duff and Kevin Jurovaty left us with a one goal lead going into halftime. For the rest of the game the incredible defense stopped every desperate charge that the Cougars made. When all was said and done, we walked off the pitch with a 1-0 upset and celebrated Coach's first win over Holliston.

equest to Next Year's Team: Duff's thesaurus, dinner at Scalzy's , Martin's storytelling, Harrison's wisdom, the offense, and only hope for any sort of replacement for the best defense the TVL has ever seen.

Memories: Tourney, "tenacious," Coach's first W against Holliston, Medway the defending state champs-"Are you theriouth?" THE WALL scores, GEARY, GEARY, Java the pig, Mr. Happy, spaghetti dinners, Coach's practice-ending anecdotes, penguins and seals, breaking bones, four hours of loaded fun, SUPERFANS.

Summary of Season: After coming out strong against Millis and Ashland, we had high hopes for the season. However, after two straight losses to Medfield and Hopkinton, we saw that it would not be easy. Things finally gelled as we ran off on an eleven game unbeaten streak, beginning with a physical beating on Dover/Sherborn that unfortunately ended as a tie, and also included another tie against the defending Division three state champs, Medway. We tore up the league with the team's first win over Holliston in over five years, and came from behind for another tie with Medway. Too bad, Geary. The next day we took the field needing only two points for a tourney berth against an unknown Nantucket team. By the end of the day, the Whalers were heading back to their island with a 6-0 loss and we had our first tourney berth in three years. When the unbeaten streak was finally over, we had clinched tourney and shocked the league. The tourney run began with the seniors' last home game against a tough Bishop Connolly team. The two teams played in a deadlock for most of the game, but we knew we could win. With the clock winding down, James Caruso sent a beautiful cross over the eighteen where tri-captain Chris Coy was waiting. Coy placed a perfect header into the left side of the net with less than ten seconds to go. We had momentum going into our next match against Archbishop Williams, but fate was not on our side as we suffered a heartbreaking season ending loss,

Making History

SENIOR STANOUTS:

Courtney Kenney- A very flexible woman, Courtney often led the team in group stretches before the games. Clearly her agility paid off, as she was a ruthless force on the field. Our opponents always cowered in fear before this savage animal.

Aubrey Cochrane- Due to after-school activities, Aubrey was frequently late to practice. However, this never showed during games. A versatile and skilled player, Aubrey, affectionately known as Wonderwoman, moved from one position to another with the greatest of ease.

Jess Turk- Jess provided the team with an emotional high throughout the season. After returning to tournament actions with an impressive battle scar, she gave the team great inspiration from her position as left half-back.

Delay, delay, face-up, tackle," and a season free of accusations.

The core of the team consisted of thirteen seniors, complemented by a talented group of underclassman. With a season plagued by injuries, many people were skeptical of our ability to adjust to these hardships. However, the team maintained a positive attitude throughout the entire season. We finished second in the Tri-Valley League and earned first seed in the tournament rankings. The team was slowly starting to heal as tournament play began. We rolled past Norwell and Medfield and went on to defeat our long time rival, Hanover. Then, in the South Sectional Final, we defeated Medway in an emotional shootout. Christine Ryan posted a shut-out of 327 minutes in tournament play. Only a breakaway goal within the last five minutes of the EMass Final against Marian

MOST MEMORABLE GAME:
During the regular season, we had lost to Medway in a close 2-1 game, but avenged our loss with a 1-0 victory at their home field. Going into the South Sectional Finals, we knew the game could go either way. However, just getting to this game was an accomplishment in itself, and no other Westwood team had ever made it this far. After 100 minutes of fearless and emotional play, the score remained tied at 0-0. We clinched victory in the South Sectional Championship in a shootout with goals by Stephanie Praino and Jess Turk. Christine Ryan continued her incredible tournament play by making two important saves in the shootout.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Captains: Bill McHugh and David Purpura

We finished with a 3-3 record, a two-victory improvement over the previous season. This year was a total team effort. After losing six of the teams top ten runners from last year, and only gaining one freshman-"Yeah Kinney" -the team worked hard and had a successful season, while also having fun. From our walks through thorn bushes to our swims at Hale Reservation, and sophomore standouts Andrew Carlsen and John Sharry performing at high levels, we had a great season.

Most Memorable Meet: Kinney's first finish...you had to be there...to see...and to smell.
Senior Standouts:

James Ricciato: James was consistently one of our top runners on the team, and he was the hardest worker on the team. No one on the team put in more effort throughout the season than James did. Bill McHugh (Captain): After getting injured before the start of the season, Bill came back strong and was one of our top runners. He always kept the underclassmen in line and was a great personality for the team, especially with his inspirational speeches. David Pupura (Captain): Dave was on of our most consistent runners. He made improvements throughout the season and came in at the end of the year. He was a good leader for the team. He always steered the team on the right course.

Girls with Kneepads

It was a season of ups and downs. There were many moments of happiness, but more of sadness. We went into the season with two-returning players, six players with JV experience, and many new players. Our JV team from the 1998 season was instantly transformed into a Varsity team. The new intensity that we faced, as players, was too hard for such a young team. We knew it would be a hard season, so we had to be strong mentally, and work together. With volleyball five days a week, our beginners instantly changed into what Mr. Gillis would refer to as, "Varsity caliber material." We grew as a team, and will be successful as one in the season the 2000 season.

Most Memorable Game:Our one win of the season, it was great.

Bequest to Next Year's Team:
Peaceful bus rides, fewer injuries, and a successful season.

Senior Standouts: Sara Sabokrooh

Sara was by far our stand out senior, partly because well. She was our only senior. She always tried 110% and never got down on herself. When people were having problems, she was always there to help resolve them. Thanks for a great season!

We've Got the Flow

This year the girls' swimming and diving team splashed its way to another impressive season. Overcoming obstacles such as pool renovations and daily treks to Wheaton College, the unstoppable girls' swim team gave it all they had. With guidance from swimming coach Tina "Tini" Spiniello and diving coach Jim "Jimmy" Kelly, the girls were pushed to the best performance possible. This pressure proved effective. GIRLS INDOOR Bequest to Next Years Team: Claim the gym as yours!! Beat Bellingham and Ashland!!

Our season was plagued by lack of numbers. With a total of 15 girls on the team we never had a meet that everyone was able to attend. Due to the low numbers we knew it would be hard to make an impact on the league, but we still practiced and were able to tie Ashland in a very close meet. The TLV meet yielded better results for the team. A few advanced to the final heats and some were able to take places away from some of the leagues best. Many girls decided to look beyond league standings and focus on qualifying for States, which became a reality for four girls on the team.

Most likely to have a crisis: Katelyn Testa

Most likely to be seen doing extra laps: Courtney"Chatterbox" Goodie

Most dramatic: Perkins Sisters

Most likely to get things under control: Cassidy Gutner

Senior Standouts:

Amy Henes-Although she was rarely seen at practice, Amy owned the 1000 in the TVL. She consistently gave the team points and was the only member of the team to successfully take on 10 Holliston girls.

Aubry Cochrane-Despite coming down with mono during the season, Aubry managed to help the team in almost every meet. She came back to practice a few weeks later and was able to jump into the two mile in her first week back.

Anna Cochrane-Anna was able to improve her mile time every meet and help score points for the team. She was always willing to run a leg of the relay and never complained.

The Fourth Reich

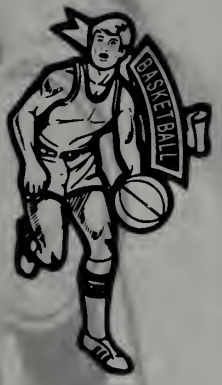

Captains: James Caruso, Brian Greenberg, Chris Jacobs, Jeff Piersons

Three memorable games stand out in our season. The first was our game in Medway at a gym in which the team had not emerged victoriously in the recent past, until this year. We beat "GEARY" and his cohorts handily with an array of highlight reel plays while superfan Mudarri reminded one particular headband-clad player that "his last name is Hickey." The second was our game in (Tr)Ashland,, where we sought revenge for the chlorine incident. Despite the abundance of trash in the stands, we regained control of the TVL with a close victory over the Matt O'Donnell Show. The final most memorable game was actually the final game against Canton. The seniors really came together and showed our experience. Although "Pendergrass" and "Jablowski" were victorious, it was a very memorable finale for Primetime, Jup, the Worm, Beef, the Wolfman, and "James."

The Boys' Basketball team entered this season with a new coach and a new outlook. Coach Andrew Mirken worked the team excruciatingly hard beginning with the first practice, which saw lots of running, sliding, and puking, at least by one particular freshman. We entered the season expecting a TVL championship and a long journey into the state tournament. We met one of these goals, capturing a TVL co-championship with Ashland, despite an early tournament exit and a few disappointing losses early in the season because our school could not control its pool's chlorine.

Bequest to Next Year's Team: Another undefeated season and to make it far in the tournament.

Captains: Andrea Barr, Molly Howard, Liz Tracey

Most Memorable Game: Westwood vs. Fontbonne in the Westwood Winter Classic. It was a close game and we pulled ahead in the end to win the tournament for the first time in five years.

The season started off strong with us winning our first couple of games before losing to Notre Dame in the Norwood tournament. However, this would be our only loss of the regular season. We fought back and won a lot of big games against Medfield and Hopkinton. We thought we had an undefeated Tri-Valley League season in the bag until our last season game against Holliston. After being down for most of the game, we put together a comeback to win the game by three. We won the Westwood tournament and headed into the state tournament with high hopes. We got through our first game against St. Clare's with no problem, winning by forty. In our next game we played TVL foe Medfield, our third meeting with them. We were down for the whole game until we mounted a comeback, but our season would end that night to a team we had beaten twice before. It seemed our season ended too soon, but with a 20-2 record, we really accomplished a lot.

Captains: Jonathan Dick, Andy Lucas, Pat Sagui

This year the viscous men's swim team leaped out to a petulant lead in the Southern Conference with lissome wins over Cambridge Ringe and Latin and North Quincy. Sagui didn't score. Our avatar of swimming prowess coach built us ever stronger through endless MAWS. Lucas and Dick soon started sculpting for Cakefest. Then a bunch of meets happened. Most Dedicated- Dick Ahigian. Best Basketball Players- Nic Goebeler and Coach Burke. Most Likely to try to set up Hurdles in the Middle of B-ball practice- Dave Purpura. Most Likely to be .01 second slower- Kieran O'Leary. Best Shot Putter- Dave Duff. Cameo Award- Chris McIntyre.

Captains: Chris Coy, Nic Goebeler, Chris Kim

Senior Standouts:

Kieran O'Leary, known more for his iron bones than his running ability, emerged as a large asset to the team in the 600. However, though he gave it his all, he always came a bit too short against the league champ.

Dick Ahigian gave his all in the shot put and rarely ever missed practice. Sightings of him at practice always inspired his teammates. He constantly had to be reminded that indoor track was a winter sport and that it might be a good idea for him to wear a little more than a T-shirt and shorts.

Sean Lancey was a force on the indoor track. Though he rarely scored any points, he was a master of the false start and was also one of the best at hallway soccer.

Bequest to Next Year's Team: To the six of you that are left, make sure that there is a team and keep up the practice tradition.

With a 4-0 record, we went into our final dual meet against the mighty Medfield squad for the Tri-Valley League title. The task appeared daunting as Medfield had the clear edge based on times. However, we quickly proved that numbers on paper meant nothing, shocking Medfield right from the start as Goebs and Kim won the hurdles and the dash, respectively. Distance demons Chris Coy and Andrew Carlsen went 1-2 in the two-mile, and would later finish the mile in similar fashion. The 600 also saw a much needed and very much unexpected 1-2 finish as Kimbo and Kierbo smoked Grillo on the last lap. Cash also came through for us by outdueling Harrington in the 1000. By the time the relay came around, we had already defeated the cocky Warriors and were league champs. But our 4x400 team cruised to victory also, not allowing Medfield to save face and making our victory even sweeter. The TVL title was ours.

We entered the season not knowing what to expect with only fifteen kids coming out for the team. With an abundance of sprinters and Coy and Carlsen at distance, there remained a void in the middle distances. The 600 was aptly filled by Chris Kim, who "volunteered" to take the "small" step up from the 40-yard dash, and fellow senior Kieran O'Leary, while Cash moved up to the 1000. After defeating Holliston in our first meet, we saw we had scorers in every event and could contend with anyone for the league title. While we cruised to victory in our next three meets, arch rival Medfield was also putting together an undefeated season, setting up a TVL title-deciding meet in the last week. Both teams trained hard for the final showdown. While Medfield runners worked out and ran laps through the snow and sleet, we toughed it out inside by having team wrestling matches and sharpening our basketball skills. With our superb preparation and team motto, "Rested Legs are the Best Legs," we shocked the cocky Medfield team and the rest of the league by becoming the Tri-Valley League Champions.

TVL CHAMPS, beating Medfield, "practice," team b-ball, hallway soccer, wrestling, no running in the halls, "Mirken's gym," Class Ds, beating Medfield, "Why is Goebs really practicing?" 4x400 teams, "Move, your ears are in the way!" GIRLS

To next year's team, have a great 2001 season, and definitely beat Medfield and Manchester.

The Westwood High Girls Tennis team finished their regular season 13-1. After suffering from too little practice time at the start of the season, the team quickly picked up their game, dropping only one loss to Medfield. The team finished the regular season sharing the Tri-Valley League title with Medfield, earning them a 4th seed rank for the tourney. After a bye in the first round, they easily beat case 5-0 in the second round of tournament. Westwood then hosted Cohasset, and picked up a 3-2 win. The team traveled to the cape for the South-Sectional Semi-Final, facing the number 1 seated undefeated Bourne. The team traveled back to Westwood with a 4-1 win, and began preparing for the South-Sectional Finals against Medfield. At Medway, the neutral site, Westwood defeated Medfield 3-2, earning them the South-Sectional title. Westwood finished their tourney run with a 3-2 loss against Manchester in the State Semi-Finals.

Most memorable match

Westwood High School's girls tennis teams most memorable match was against Medfield. In South-Sectional Finals. The two teams had each taken one win against each other during the regular season, and both knew that this match could go either way. Although dropping at 1st singles and 2nd doubles, Westwood picked up wins at the 2nd and 3rd singles and 1st doubles, earning an exciting 3-2 win over Medfield for the South Sectional title.

Most Memorable Game: The Ashland home game that was dealayed for almost an hour. Even though it was delayed we were still able to keep our spirits up and our head in the game to win it, WON 1-0!!!!

Senior Standouts: Molly Howard- Molly had her best season ever this year, both deffensively and offensively. She was a great player and a great leader.

Memorable game: The Medfield game. With 2 outs in the top of the 7th we were up by 5 and Medfield got 6 runs before the rains came and suspended the game. We ended up losing the game due to using a suspended player.

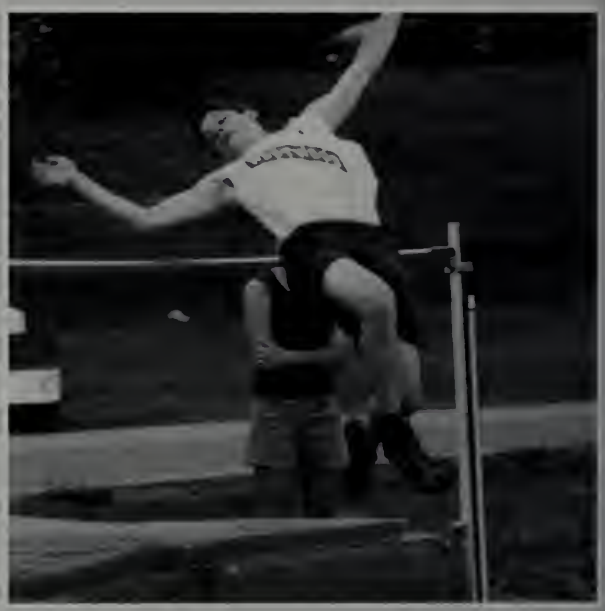

TRACK & FIELD

BOYS OUTDOOR

Running away from home

Captains: Chris Coy, Nic Goebeler, Chris Kim, Dave Purpura

Coming off a successful indoor season, the outdoor track squad was optimistic about their performance in the spring season. The team had a strong group of core runners, who would be among the top in the league in their events, but the field events and depth in general was lacking. Despite the fact that the home track had cracks, rocks, dirt, and no lines, the team felt it could have success on the road. The first test was Medway/Millis, and though it was fairly close WW came out on top. The team believed the next meet against archrival Medfield would be the greatest test. Westwood saw some key performances against a Medfield squad hampered by a couple of injuries and took another victory to stay undefeated. Some started to think the idea of a TVL Championship wasn't too far-fetched. Many believed that the following meet with Hopkinton would decide it all. Unfortunately, a couple of key runners were unable to attend, numbers were small, and we suffered our first loss of the season. After vacation week, we were able to get fairly easy wins at Dover-Sherborn and Ashland, but there were also tough losses to Bellingham and Holliston, a meet which came down to the last event. These couple of weeks had also seen the Coaches Invitational, and the 4x200 team crossing the line third at the Class D Relays, coming close to a school record. The team finished up the dual meet season in a tie for third at 4-3, but the TVL Championship Meet was coming up. Goebeler sprinted to a school record in the 200, Coy made it three straight in the 2-Mile, Kim pulled out his best to grab second in the 400, Carson, Carlsen, and Smalls showed promise for the future, and the season ended in style. Not everyone was finished yet, for the day after the prom, a few runners went to the Class D State Meet. Coy and Goebs flexed their muscles, placing fifth in their respective events, while Carson and Kim gave valiant efforts in theirs. The season had a few disappointments here and there, but it was an overall success. At the end, the Seniors had graduated and said goodbye to the TVL, but there are still many new, young faces, which show the future to be promising. The tradition continues.

Best Game Face- Dave Purpura. Cheetah Award- Nic Goebeler. Most Likely to Switch from the mile to the 100- Bill McHugh. Went through the Danger Zone- Carson Brennan. Best Lacrosse Player- Bill Ryan. Most Likely to Drop his Shorts- Andrew Azeredo.

Most Memorable Meet: Medfield. Our next door neighbors have been our archrival in every sport since our freshman year, but they still had not been conquered in the outdoor season. The seniors had tied them when they were freshmen, but had lost the two following years, leaving them only one more chance. Things looked good from the start with Murphy out with mono and Rapa with an ailing hamstring. When Harcourt went down with a pulled muscle during the hurdles, Smalls and Purps came through with eight points. Westwood also got key performances by Goebs and Carson in the sprints, Kim and Ryan in the 400, and Coy and Carlsen in distance. The Wolverines, propelled by a variety of athletes, rose up to the occasion and added more injury to the cocky Warriors and allowed the seniors to leave with a sweep of Medfield in both indoor and outdoor.

Co-MVPs: Chris Coy, Nic Goebeler
Sportsmanship: Dave Purpura
League All-stars: Chris Coy, Nic Goebeler, Chris Kim; 2nd team: Carson Brennan, Andrew Carlsen

Memories: Beating Medfield AGAIN, Class Ds after prom night, 4x200 team, "Hey Butler, you're nothin!" getting girls' numbers from the back of the bus, watching Purpura hurdle, 4x100 teams, oakleys, Nic's warm-up routine, the search for throwers, Purps and his freshman crew, lying on the mats, practice on short Wednesdays

Senior Standouts

Bill McHugh, a former distance runner, didn't like running very far so he started sprinting. He turned out to be a great value in the sprints and relays, and could even step up to the 800 when he was needed. Michuge was also a member of the great 4x2 squad.

Bill Ryan was a newcomer to the track. He thought he could probably run one lap pretty well, and he did. He provided some much needed depth in the 400 and the relay. He even helped the lacrosse team out in a couple games.

Bequest to Next Year's Team: Uphold the legacy of the Wolverine- GRRR!

Senior Standouts:

A four-year contributor, Cass Gutner proved to be more than just another cute face. She racked up the points in the 100, inspired her teammates with her dedication and enthusiasm, and did it all with a smile.

Velvet Richardson brought her stylish flair to the track team, as well as her sweet and encouraging personality. She was a powerful yet graceful hurdler and a valuable asset to the 4x100 relay team. With a bounce in her stride and a gleam in her eye, she always managed to "double up the support" for her teammates.

Although she was secluded in the pits, Abby Onderdonk made herself known throughout the league with her powerful voice and jumps. An excellent long and triple jumper, "Donker" achieved her personal bests in both events during her senior year. With her "tractor trailer mouth" and quick wit, she could always make her teammates laugh.

MVP: Cristen Butler

Memories: Britney Spears, mat queens, singing on the bus, Westwood's wonderful facilities, Class Ds, watching the girls' lax team run more than we did, our great team unity- pasta dinners, Papa Gino's runs, getting toilet papered, team visualizations before meets, etc.

This season was definitely one to remember. At the beginning of the season, Coach Relleva announced that it would be his last, giving the team motivation to send him off with one last hurrah. And that we did. The incredibly talented seniors led by example to show the awestruck and bewildered freshmen the mysterious and magical ways of girls' track and field. And with a 3-4 record, we really showed the TVL what we were made of. Our dominance in the league was a product of our grueling practices, especially the Friday practices until sundown. But seriously- no matter the outcome of our meets, we always managed to have fun. And while there will be continued success in girls' track, Coach Relleva will be greatly missed- not only as a coach but also as a friend.

Most Memorable Meet: Bellingham. Thrilling one-point victory. Great performances across the board. Enough said.

Most memorable game: Our first meeting ever with Saint Peter Marion was at home to our advantage. The game went back and forth for three and a half quarters when Saint Peter Marion was able to score, tying the game. The game was sent into four gripping, edge-of-your-seat overtimes until Saint Peter Marion scored, needless to say, by a lucky goal.

Senior Standouts:
Chris Mudarri: A big, goofy kid who tried his butt off to be good at lacrosse (but failed)
Jeff Piersons: Can't speak English but is one of the most athletic kids in town.

MVP: Bubba and Buck
Unsung Hero: Bud Marsh
Sportsmanship: Jeff Piersons

Captains: Gretchen Chambers, Amy Lanning

The Westwood Girls' Lacrosse team, after being a varsity team for only three years, established themselves as a force to be reckoned with, ending their victorious season with a record of 13-5. For the second year in a row, the girls made it to the state tournament. This year, the team beat Milton in their first tourney game. Making it to the second round, the girls lost to perennial powerhouse Needham, who went on to win the tournament. This loss did not dampen the team's memories of hard work and a great season.

Memories: LONG runs, bus rides, beating Milton in the tournament game, Bubbling Brook, Lax parties.
Most Memorable Game: The Milton Comeback- By halftime of our first tournament game, we were down 8-2. Our team just was not working together like we usually do. After a pep talk from our coach, we went back out and turned the game around. Each goal we notched produced a victorious uproar from our fans. We won the game, 10-9!

MVP: Jess and Lindsay Turk
Coach's Awards: Anna and Aubrey Cochrane
League All-Stars: Anna Cochrane, Aubrey Cochrane, Amy Lanning, Christine Ryan- Player of the Year.

Bequest to Next Year's Team: We leave to next year's team a defense because the whole defensive team graduated.

Congratulations Graduates!

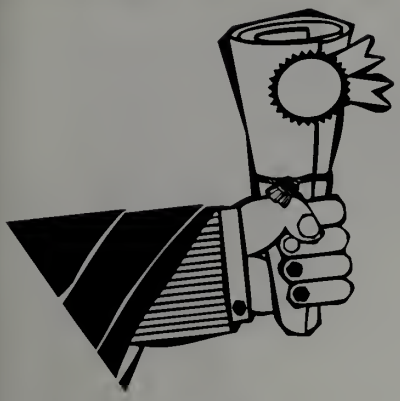

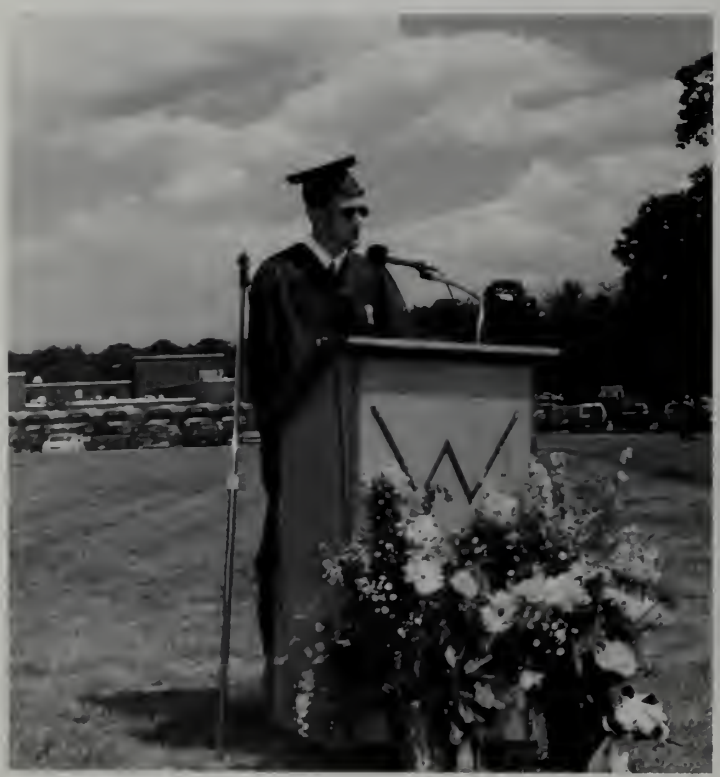

Brian Greenberg, Welcoming Address

Welcome, Dr. Ash, Mr. Flahive, school committee representatives, family and friends, to the commencement exercises for the class of 2000. Today marks the end of an era. If life were divided logically into separate intervals of time, the four years of high school through which we have just traveled would represent the most important period of our lives. Westwood High School has shaped us; it has molded us into the people we will be for the rest of our lives. This said, graduation is so much more than the simple conferral of a diploma. It marks the culmination of four years of work, four years of reading; four years of learning; four years of competing; four years of winning and losing; four years of boyfriends and girlfriends; four years of making and breaking friendships; four years of preparation. In these four years of physical, mental, and social maturing, we have become young adults, ready to enter the next stage of our mental, and social maturing, we have become young adults, ready to enter the next stage of our lives. Now let me introduce the people who sit before you today. We are scholars; we are athletes; we are artists; we are actors; we are comedians; we are musicians; we are pranksters. As we enter the twenty-first century, high school is becoming much less a solely academic experience; however, it still remains inherently academic, as the main purpose of high school is education. Whether you're a football player, a cellist, a hacker, or a "Damn Yankee", you still wake up every morning to spend the next six and a half hours becoming more educated. Our four years have teemed with academic pursuits. Whether enduring hours of painstaking labor from TJB's AP U.S. History Class and Mrs. Kelsch's junior English class or focusing on the aestheticism of Ceramics and Studio Art, everyone has completed more than his share of academic pursuits. The worth of these pursuits lies in the process. The actual facts that we've learned matter far less than the manner in which we've learned them. We are now prepared to continue our learning for the next four years and for the rest of our lives. Those hours spent getting kicked out of the Media Center and waking up at 4:00 in the morning to finish a last minute paper have climaxed with this day. However, the countless theses, papers, and projects do not capture the entire high school experience. We are more than scholars. We are also athletes, actors, and musicians. The last four years have comprised a vast number of athletic contests, some won, some lost. We have experienced Super Bowl Championships in football, South Sectional Championships in women's soccer, long tournament runs in men's and women's basketball, and many individual and team victories in the pool and on the track. But the real value in athletics lies in its own contribution to education. The victories taught us humility and the losses, sportsmanship. Most of all, our efforts on the playing field taught us teamwork and the merits of cooperation. Besides scholars and athletes, we are friends. The social pursuits we have made over the last four years will dominate our memories forever. While the quadratic formula or the Gettysburg Address may somehow leak from our minds in the distant future, the sight of Mr. WHS contestants eating ice cream from unusual places and singing, or trying to sing "Buttercup" will remain with us forever. The grass skirts, leis, and coconut bras from the Hawaiian dance, the fireman's foam, a date at Beacon's after Singled Out, proms and post prom parties: these events will never escape our memories. Our social endeavors have been perhaps the most important facet of our high school experience. We will forget neither our friends nor our enemies, and these interactions will help us in all social situations for the rest of our lives. They had shaped our personalities and attitudes. They provide a balance for the hours of quizzes and tests; they place academics in context. These dances, parties, and fundraisers, combined with sports and classes, constitute our high school experience. So congratulate us; we've reached the end of the beginning. We've completed our preparation. We're ready to enter the next stage of our lives. Today we leave Westwood High with much more than a piece of paper. We leave with the knowledge, intellectual and physical maturity, and most of all, friends. When we entered high school, our goal wasn't the receipt of a diploma proving that we completed our studies; rather, our goal was to mature physically, mentally, and socially. Today we need to make sure we realize just what this diploma includes. Thank you and welcome to the rest of our lives.

Izzat Jarudi explained the story of the Blind Men and the Elephant. It is an old Buddhist parable that is retold by the nineteenth-century American Poet John Godfrey Saxe.

Saxe's poem distinguishes between knowledge and certainty. The blind men were inclined to learning. At first they were very curious to understand what remained a mystery to them. What they lacked was skepticism; when each accepted a part of the truth that snugly filled the gap in his knowledge; he made a comfortable answer, the final answer to his question. That was all he needed to feel that he knew everything and so that was all the truth that he wanted.

The parable has more than one message. It can be applied to philosophy and politics or to the mysterious all night graduation party that some seniors are probably thinking is the enigmatic Elephant. The message Izzat wanted to communicate today lies in the first stanza of the poem that he read. The learned blind men went to see the Elephant to quickly satisfy their minds. Izzat wanted to echo the warning we all have heard from our remarkable teachers at Westwood High School: to never be satisfied with our understanding. It is a difficult demand for anyone to fulfill but still an important everyday struggle. The time we will all continue to give to learning after high school should be part of an eternal effort to eliminate the blindness that both certainty and ignorance cast on our lives. The truly learned man or woman shares Socrates' wisdom: One thing only I know, and this is that I know nothing."

Special Presentation to the class of 2000
from the Class of 1950

Presentation of Gift from WHS Class of 1950 to Class of 2000

A great nineteenth century philosopher poet, from neighboring Concord, who was the very exemplar of New England virtue, wrote as the final line of a commemorative hymn, "From the age that is past to the age that is coming before."

This choice phrase is most apropos the presence of Mrs.. McCue and myself at these, generally, solemn ceremonies, for it is incumbent upon us to explain - briefly - the particular significance of this gift from the Class of Nineteen Fifty to the members of the Class of 2000 at Westwood High School.

Let me tell you something of who we are by telling you who we were in nineteen fifty.

We were fifty in number, twenty-five women and twenty-five men.

We were the last generation of Westwood graduates who were raised in a small town, the last before Westwood and Islington became fully suburbanized.

We were the children of the Depression. When we were little kids, many of our parents knew what it was to have no jobs. Yet, year after year, our parents voted in town meeting to dedicate a significant part of their resources to our education.

We were raised in the traditions of the America formed by the Civil War, which had ended only sixty-eight years (the span of our present lives) before we were born. We remember participating, as Brownies and Cub Scouts, in Memorial Day Ceremonies alongside the last surviving veteran of the Union Army.

Some of us were from families many generations in New England, and some of us, also, were first-generation children, whose parents had come from Lithuania, England, Sweden, Italy and Nova Scotia to live in Westwood and Islington.

We spent our preteen years in a world at war and saw our fathers and our brothers march off from the Dedham Courthouse to fight against the curses of fascism and racism, and in defense of our liberties. Two of us lost beloved older brothers in the awful conflict known as World War II.

Our high school years were lived under the shadow of the early part of the Cold War. One of our classmates died in Korea, a victim of that conflict, and many of us served, after high school or college, in the armed forces of this nation. One of our female classmates made an honorable career serving in the United States Marine Corps, and another was an "officer and a gentleman," serving with great distinction in the nuclear submarine force of the United States Navy.

We had fun. We fielded football, baseball and basketball teams of first-rate athletes whose records, like yours, show more wins that losses over our four years, including the Tri-Valley baseball championship. Our class play was a real Broadway comedy, Arsenic and Old Lace, fully staged with rented scenery to make it thoroughly authentic. Ours was the first Westwood High School Band (all ten or twelve of us). Among the cars we drove were a wartime surplus Jeep, and a 1936 eight-cylinder Packard coupe, and a 1939 Buick Roadmaster sedan. We raised money for the first bleachers down at what is now the Thurston Middle School, but when the time came to make a class gift, our treasury was empty, the money probably having been spent for our class party at old Mrs. Fearing's estate on Fox Hill Street.

Last Will and Testament

I, Aamina Akram, leave to Chris Kelly, Catherine, Eoghan, Erin, Morgan, Beth, and Becky the awesome memories of Paris.
I,Joaquin Avellan, leave to Andres (Aqui) the ratmobile and all the noxious tumes emmited from it.
I, Manuel Avellan, leave to Andres the K of the K~N posse, and its leadership ability, also the RaTt Mobile, may it ride in peace.
I, Jenn Barger, leave to Plunkett my every day complaint about this school, Jen C. I Jeave my every complaint about Bob, and to everyone else you get didley squat oh and Julie, give me back my darn sweatshirt!
I, Andrea Barr, leave to my brother Peter, the Neon; to Ian Connelly, my heart; to Ali Rose, my orange stuff and Danielle, DMX.
I, Tom Beigbeder, leave to everyone a useless webpage and to Mrs. Staiti a short attention span.
I, Bubba, leave to my sister Tiffany Berube the lunchbox and all its parts. To Plunk, money for help (mental help) after our great Chem. and Bio. Classes, she needs it.
I, Robyn Burman, leave to the class of 2001, the joy of trying to find a parking spot within fair walking distance. I leave the field hockey players the endless circuit run.
I, Cristen Butler, leave to Pete K. a rainy night; to Jon M. and Derek O. Buckmaster; and Meghan K. Hooper St. memories.
I, John Cianciarulo, leave to my brother: Locker #678, Marc B.: the change machine, Meg: A 2 on the fitting room door. Teachers: A smile and a laugh; Mrs. Runci: the humor, quotes, physical motions, and good times that have shaped our lives.
I, Teresa Chiariello, leve to Meghan Kehoe, our "quality" woodshop projects.
I, Anna Cochrane, leave to my brother Jake: the white mystery; the girls soccer and lacrosse teams: winning seasons.
I, Aubrey Cochrane, leaev to Meg H. memories of the white mystery & the actual car if she wants it, and to Jake, Mom & Dad's love and attention all to himself.
I, Megan Coffey, leave to Marc, the pit, to Kimmy and Lauren, the patience for another year, and to Rachel S., a bottle of degreaser.
I, Christopher Coy, leave to Mark Harrison my English skills, to Carlson, the joy of the double, and to Cash, a razor.
I, Cheryl Cullinane, leave to Jenny Hannon our amusing car rides, to Rebecca Schwartz MY blue shirt, and to both, gas money for EVERY weekend at Framingham.
I, Maya El-Khouri, leave to Jen Close my driving record.
I, Cory Fazio, leave to Ken Wan the Power of the N in the K~N posse, Bill Costanza my excess slacking ability.
I, Deirdre Feeney, leave to future science classes that I am a lawyer, and a lawyer I shall remain.
I, Lisa Filbin, leave to Carly, Crystal, Anna, Mary, Hillary & Christine- Christy's, Oski- talk rides, Billie- might max, Nicole- BB.
I, Julianne Goodfellow, leave to my sister Katie the much-respected role as third parent and the luxurious blue station wagon.
I, Brian Greenberg leave to Ian Connelly and the mouche crew a TVL title, the mirk, and a juvenile CD; and to Elliot Marson my ups and my J.
I, Mark W. Griffin, leave to my brother Matt, many years of safe driving, and to my parents, the joy of my success.
I, Cassidy Gutner, leave to the Girls Indoor Track team the power to win, and to Brittany & Nicole the power of a Stage Manager.
I, Lindsey Hall, leave to Tiff Berube the high soprano notes in chorus, Tanya Crosby the awesome name "Julie", gold hoop earrings & my locker #1416. And to Kris Scoble, all the guy troubles, and my # at FPC.
I, Leslie Harvey, leave to Joey Cullinane the traditional theater quote.
I, Amy Henes, leave to Emily Frost, dreams of sultry sheep, to Christine Ryan, another rock to defend her, and to my brother Brian, Mom's undivided love and attention.
I, Ariel Hoch, leave to my little sister, Molly, four great years at WHS, and Mom and Dad's watchful eye. And to the Girls' Tennis Team fun times with Liebs and lots of bagels.
I, Molly Howard, leave to Suzy her own personal chauffeur; Diane, club 18 and Carly-the red Mitsubishi.
I, Chris Jacobs, leave to all underclassmen Respect for seniors every where.
I, Kristen Karafotias, leave to my brother Peter a memory to treasure years in high school with your friends. Love Always, Kristen.
I, Abby Killela, leave to Becky and Beth: Sketchy French guys; Field hockey team: a winning season and another trip to tourney, Good Luck!
I, Amy Killelea, leave to the field hockey team a few wins and a fun time running the circuit.
I, Christopher Kim, leave to David Duff a little black book for all his ladies, to Cash the ability to hang out at track, and to Martin the strut and a pair of boxers for midnight runs.
I, Greg Marsh, leave to anyone who appreciates a majestic automobile, the memory of the silver bullet.
I, Jeffrey Lin, leave to the school tire tracks and a cloud of radial dust in the parking lot.
I, Katie Mac Donald, leave to my brother Matt car rides to school, and to the softball team, fun practices, and to my ceramics partner Carson, fun projects.

Class of 2000 Class of 2000 Class

Class of 2000 Class of 2000 Class

I, Andy Lucas, leave to Chris Ferrentino the ~. To the freshmen 4 years of hell and to that Dan a heavily frosted sheet cake.
I, Elizabeth McDonough, leave to Michael Jurrovati my intense wood skills. Good Luck!
I, Michael McGillvary, leave to Ms. Plunkett my periodic table, and to no one, my sister.
I, Sara McGowan, leave to my brother Chris, the McGowan smarts, and to Joanna Eng I leave the title of "Destroyer".
I, Bill McHugh, leave to David Duff my mojo, jigginess, and undying funk/smoothness. To the indoor track team, the memory of being champs.
I, Susie Michelson, leave to Laura the uncanny knowledge the next three years will undoubtedly entail (life in the circus ain't easy), and to Joey a little grace and all that jazz.
I, Edward Naim, leave to the class of 2001 my self-reserved parking sport next to the pool entrance. Because of my early-bird hours, everyone has admired it, but few have beaten me to it.
I, Valerie Nasman, leave to Chris Davidson three more years of fun at WHS. Aubrey Guastlli and Kevin Jurovaty many years of success, and to Mr. Dore, many more years of teaching.
I, Ryan O'Conner, leave to Steve Kouri my superior tennis skill.
I, Brian Osganian, leave to Kristyn Osganian the right and honor to use my name as "Oski". I also leave to Kerri Scales the ability to check her pulse. To Ms. Plunkett I leave my special test-taking seat of honor. And finally to "Charlie" Kacamburas my hallway and height.
I, Jeff Piersons, leave to nobody my little sister Elizabeth.
I, Stephanie Priano, leave to Christine Ryan, numerous shut out seasons, and my rhythm, soul, and phat dance moves; to Suzanne Caruso, a list of losers to avoid; and to Ursula and my Don-Don, the purple Jeep.
I, John Primpas, leave to Carson Brennan "my hustle points" and to Mr. Kacambures "my car" Trans Am.
I, David Purpura, leave to Steve Small and Mike Springer, ten ancient hurdles, one of which is bloodstained, and the hope that one day they will have a track that doesn't cause shin splints.
I, Devany Rezendes, leave to Becky the foxy ladybug, Meg the fun run and 27 year olds, Rae daiquiris in Florida, and Christine my sexy ability to seduce frosh.
I, Lisabeth Rooney, leave to Rachel Sciaba all Alissa's memories with Chris and another lock for her locker. To Sheila the rest of my doctor's notes.
I, Pat Sagui, leave to Meghan Kehoe a band-aid, Josh Weinstein my swimming ability, Phat Dan a pair of Jumper cables and a can of paint.
I, Alison Scoble, leave to Tiffany Berube, the awesome Foxy name and my locker; to Nicki Pirello, I leave Dave Matthews; to Tanya Crosby, my sexy dancing skills; and to Kristin Scoble, my crazy skiing skills.
I, Jim Shaw, leave to James O'Conner my freshness, my amazing turntable skills, and the Regulataz legacy. To Tiffany Berube I leave a catcall.
I, Kristin Small, leave to Joey all the auditions in the world, Cathrine, Heather, Erin, and Morgan the power of woman, and to my brother the track star, the excellence of being a Small.
I, Elizabeth Tracey, leave to Gina Oliveri, a memorable senior year; to my brother, David, the best of luck and to both of them, all my love, always.
I, Jessica Turk, leave to the Holdens the honor of being the last remaining twins on Salisbury Dr., to Shanks a sloppy mud fight, and to Christine Ryan good luck between the pipes.
I, Lindsay Turk, leave to Christine a new defense for soccer, to Shanks unique "questions of the day" and to Student Council: good luck. And Danielle, keep up the De De!
I, Lavinia Weizel, leave to James O'Conner many pit band shenanigans, to Tanya & Tiffany a chance to shine & to Maia the bio club, the yearbook & all my best wished for the future.
I, Tom White, leave to Chris Jordan, Josh Lennon, and Corey Sullivan the headlining spot at Battle of the Bands.
I, Evan Yarian, leave to the Wasted Youth Crew, my Q-ball to regulate the streets of Westwood.

Senior Surveys

45% of the Class of 2000 applied to anywhere from 4 to 6 colleges

55% were accepted to between 1 and 3

85% of seniors have left school illegally, but only 10% have been caught

While 23% of the class prefers the Islington Dunkin' Donuts, 50% prefer the Dunkin' Donuts on Route 109

While only 26% of the Class of 2000 smokes, 70% admits to drinking

40% of the Class of 2000 has been tardy between 1 and 19 times, 22% 20 to 39 times, and 17% 80+ times!

But 5 angels exist who have never once been late to school!

Of the 110 people to which it applied, only 7 people adhered to the rules set out by the Massachusetts Graduated Licensing Law

65% of our class has attended anywhere from one to ten concerts

While only 1% of the class admits to spending two to three hours on homework per night, 24% admit to spending at least two hours on the phone!

The Class of 2000's fondest memories include parties, proms, leaves, the fire, sports, and the K-N Posse
